

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

I would like to add that I am a teenager getting started in the workforce. I save money by using the TracFone service for it's dependable use and excellent usage plan. This tax hike will effect me as well as other people that bought the TracFone for it's convenience. A flat fee for calling long distance is not something I would care to keep in service, considering that I make, at most, two long distance calls a month. I implore you, the decision makers, to consider not only how unfair this tax hike is, but how ridiculous.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Solorio
